Description of the programme:

The National Service Scheme (NSS), Madhab Choudhury College (Autonomous), Barpeta Unit, organised an extension programme at the old-age home ‘Apon Ghar’, located at Dangarkuchi, Barpeta, Assam, on 19 September 2026. The programme was organised to mark the first death anniversary of Zubeen Garg, the renowned singer and beloved cultural icon of Assam, and to promote compassion, care, and social responsibility towards elderly people. The main objective of the programme was to bring joy to the residents of the old-age home, provide them with opportunities for interaction, and encourage students to develop respect and concern for the elderly. As part of the programme, a cultural event was organised to entertain the residents and create a pleasant and cheerful atmosphere. The students and teachers also interacted with the residents, shared their thoughts and experiences, and spent meaningful time with them. In addition, light refreshments, materials for indoor games, and books were donated to the residents to support their recreational activities and reading habits. Altogether, 58 students, accompanied by teachers of Madhab Choudhury College (Autonomous), Barpeta, participated in the programme. The programme provided students with valuable practical experience in community service and helped develop empathy, cooperation, and a sense of social responsibility among them. It also offered the residents an opportunity to enjoy cultural entertainment, social interaction, and companionship, making the occasion memorable and meaningful.
